Application form

Subdivide a Licence to Take and Use Water and Operate Works

General information and explanatory notes (retain for future reference)

What is the purpose of subdividing a Licence?

If land which is supplied under an existing licence is subdivided, the licensee may consider the option of subdividing the licence and assigning a portion of the existing licensed volume to each of the resulting properties. An existing licence may only be subdivided into a number of new licenses if the following conditions are met:

- The total volume of the new licences are equal the original licence volume.
- All proposed assignee/s can demonstrate the ability to access the source of supply (via a waterway or bore).
- The land title which has been subdivided was already included on the existing licence.

Why do I need to ensure the subdivided lots only access water under a Licence to Take and Use Water

Under the provisions of the Water Act 1989, any person who wishes to take and use water must first obtain a licence to take and use water and operate the works.

What does a Licence to Take and Use Water and a Licence to Operate Works authorise?

A Licence to Take and Use water authorises the licensee to extract water and use it for irrigation, commercial or other purposes. A licence to operate works authorises the licensee to use the works to extract water for this purpose. The licences detail the licence conditions and the volume of water which can be extracted from the licensed works.

What if I wish to assign a portion of my licensed volume to the owner or occupier of land which is not currently on the licence?

To assign a whole or part of a licence to land other than the land currently licensed, G-MW must approve an application to permanently transfer the licence. Contact the Licensing Unit for details about this application.

What does the application fee cover?

Application fees cover the full cost of undertaking a licence assessment in accordance with G-MW's obligations under the Water Act 1989. This includes administering the application, undertaking a full site inspection and reviewing any submissions made in relation to your application. In many cases a technical assessment may be required to determine if extraction of water may have any adverse impacts on other users in your area or the environment. The costs of technical investigations are borne by the applicant.

The base application fee allows for the subdivision of one licence into two. If there are to be more than two new licenses assigned an additional fee applies per licence for the third and subsequent licenses.

Are there ongoing costs associated with having a Licence?

Yes, each Licence to Take and Use Water is subject to annual fixed charges, issued by G-MW in July each year. Each of the licenses resulting from a subdivision will attract a separate annual charge. If there are any outstanding charges on the licence to be subdivided they will be transferred proportionally to the new licenses which are issued upon subdivision. For specific details about which charges will apply to the licenses, please contact the Licensing Unit.

What happens after I lodge my application?

After you lodge your application G-MW will notify you in writing that it has been received. The timeframe to complete an assessment will vary depending on the nature of your application. There may be delays if you are required to engage a consultant to conduct a technical assessment in support of your application. G-MW can not make a decision in relation to an application until all relevant information is received. If delays are expected you will be notified by G-MW. When the decision has been made to your application you will notified in writing of the outcome, either that the application has been approved or refused. Application fees are not refundable if an application is refused.
