General information and explanatory notes (retain for future reference)

What are the benefits of transferring a Licence to Take and Use Groundwater?

Transferring groundwater entitlement provides existing licensed groundwater users with the opportunity to maximise the value of their licence by selling their unused entitlement, and provides other groundwater users with the ability to purchase water entitlements in areas where new entitlement is not available.

What are the rules relating to the temporary transfer of a licence?

Rules have been established to allow the temporary transfer of groundwater entitlement while also ensuring groundwater resources are managed in a sustainable manner. The following general rules apply to temporary transfer of groundwater. Please note that areas governed by Groundwater Management Plans or Local Management Rules may be subject to rules that differ from those described below.

- In most cases the transfer of entitlement is limited to the term of the current financial year. The transferred volume reverts back to the sellers Licence on 1 July in the following year.
- Multiple year temporary transfers may be approved for a period up to five years subject to a Tier 2 assessment.
- Transfers can generally occur only between licensed bores located within the same trading zone. In some areas limited trading is available between zones.
- In some cases transfers may be approved between adjacent zones if the buyer and sellers bores are located within a short distance from the boundary of those zones.
- Transferred entitlement may be restricted or prohibited from being used if there are adverse impacts on other users or the environment.
- If the sellers bore is operational, the pumping system must be metered according to GMW's requirements before a transfer can be approved.
- The buyer must have a Licence to Take and Use Groundwater before an application for a temporary transfer can be approved.
- Water cannot be used by the buyer until the transfer has been approved. GMW will notify all parties of the outcome of an application in writing.
- For specific details about trading in your area please refer to the relevant management plan or rule available from www.g-mwater.com.au/water-resources/ground-water_management prior to lodging your application.

How do I know which trading zone and trading rules apply to my licence?

Trading rules have been established under Groundwater Management Plans and Local Management Rules. Your licence document lists the trading zone applicable to your licence. A copy of your licence can be obtained by contacting the Licensing Unit (fees apply).

Plans and Rules have been established where groundwater has been, or has the potential to be, intensively developed. Applications in the Loddon Highlands WSPA, Lower Campaspe Valley WSPA and Mid-Loddon GMA are subject to consideration of the intensity of surrounding licence entitlement under the respective management rules. Applicants are encouraged to contact GMW prior to submitting application to determine the potential impact of these rules. For information on management plans and rules, please refer to the GMW website at www.g-mwater.com.au/water-resources/ground-water. If you cannot access the internet please contact the Licensing Unit.

Why are there different application fees?

The fee structure reflects the cost of the work required by GMW to assess and determine applications for temporary licence transfers in accordance with its legal obligations.

Tier 1:

An application to transfer a volume which is less than 2ML, or up to 10% of the buyers licence volume, is generally considered to have a lower risk of impacting other users or the environment and only requires a Tier 1 assessment. Note up to 10% of the licence volume is cumulative so an applicant cannot undertake multiple temporary transfers for 10% of their licence volume in the same season under a Tier 1 assessment.

Temporary transfer in the Katunga Water Supply Protection Area are also considered low risk on application and only require a Tier 1 assessment as groundwater licence holders may only transfer in up to 100% of their licence volume.

Tier 2:

Applications for transfers greater and 2ML or 10% of the licence volume require a Tier 2 assessment which includes a site inspection and technical assessment.

When assessing an application for the temporary transfer of a licence GMW must consider any impacts on existing authorised users of groundwater and the environment. When the application is lodged it will be assessed initially to determine whether the transfer of water poses a risk of having any adverse impacts at the proposed site where the water will be taken and used.

If this assessment indicates that there is a potential risk of impacting other users or the environment additional information will be required from the applicant. GMW may require that technical investigations, hydrogeological assessments and/or pumping tests are undertaken to demonstrate that the proposal will not adversely impact upon existing authorised groundwater users and the environment. Completion of this work, if applicable, will be required before the transfer of groundwater entitlement is considered. Please note that the costs of any technical work are paid by the applicant. If you are required to undertake such work you will be notified by GMW. A fee may be applicable to review the additional information supplied by the applicant.

What volume of water is available to the buyer when a temporary transfer is approved?

The temporary transfer of a licence involves the transfer licence entitlement from the sellers licence to the buyers licence. Entitlement that has been temporarily transferred, takes into account any restrictions that may be in place on the buyers licence.

Where restrictions have been set (eg. where less than 100% of licence volume is made available in a given season) the transferred volume which will be available for the purchaser to use upon approval of the transfer will be adjusted to reflect the available percentage of licence volume at the time of the approval of the transfer.

For example if a seller temporarily transfers a 100ML Licence (unused) in an area where the allocation volume is limited to 70%, the purchaser will be the recipient of a 100ML Licence entitlement with only 70ML available to use for the term of the transfer.

Where can I get more information about trading opportunities and current prices in my area?

You should visit the GMW website to obtain information about trading rules and restrictions applicable to your licence before proceeding to locate a buyer or seller. If you are still unsure about the rules you should contact the Licensing Unit to discuss your proposal.

GMW cannot provide you with information on the current market value of water. If you decide to proceed with an application, information about market activity and pricing can be obtained from your local water broker. Details of brokers in your area can be located in the Yellow Pages or through advertisements in your local newspaper.
