General information and explanatory notes (retain for future reference)

What is the purpose of amalgamating licences?

If a property is being operated as a single farming and financial enterprise and currently has a number of licenses covering multiple land parcels, the licensees may apply to amalgamate the licenses into a single licence. Existing licenses may only be amalgamated into one licence if the following conditions are met:

- The total volume of the amalgamated licence is equal to the volume of the existing licenses.
- The lands currently included on the various licenses to be amalgamated must be contiguous to each other. That is the boundary of each land parcel must touch the boundary of at least one of the other parcels.
- The properties must be operating as a single farm or financial enterprise

Why do I need a Licence to Take and Use Groundwater and Operate Works?

Under the provisions of the Water Act 1989 (Vic), any person who wishes to take and use water must first obtain a licence to take and use water and operate the works.

What does a Licence to Take and Use Water and a Licence to Operate Works authorise?

A Licence to Take and Use water authorises the licensee to extract water and use it for irrigation, commercial or other purposes. A licence to operate works authorises the licensee to use the works to extract water for this purpose. The licences detail the licence conditions and the volume of water which can be extracted from the licensed works.

What if I wish to amalgamate a number of licences and the lands are non-contiguous?

To take and use water on a parcel of land which is non-contiguous to land on your existing licence GMW must approve an application to permanently transfer the licensed volume to a new (or existing) licence which includes the other land. Contact the Licensing Unit for details about this application.

What does the application fee cover?

Application fees cover the full cost of undertaking a licence assessment in accordance with GMW's obligations under the Water Act 1989. This includes administering the application, undertaking a full site inspection and reviewing any submissions made in relation to your application. In many cases a technical assessment may be required to determine if extraction of water may have any adverse impacts on other users in your area or the environment. The costs of technical investigations are borne by the applicant.

The base application fee allows for the amalgamation of two licenses into one new licence. If there are more than two licenses to be amalgamated, an additional fee applies per licence for the third and subsequent licenses.

Do I have to pay all charges on the existing licenses prior to the amalgamation being approved?

Yes, any outstanding charges must be paid in full for all licenses which will be subject to the amalgamation. For specific details about which charges will apply to your licence, please contact the Licensing Unit.

What happens after I lodge my application?

After you lodge your application GMW will notify you in writing that it has been received. The timeframe to complete an assessment may vary depending on the nature of your application. There may be delays if you are required to engage a consultant to conduct a technical assessment in support of your application. GMW cannot make a decision in relation to an application until all relevant information is received. If delays are expected you will be notified by GMW. When the decision has been made to your application you will be notified in writing of the outcome, either that the application has been approved or refused. Application fees are not refundable if an application is refused.
