

We wouldn't let them play on the road...

...so please don't let your children or animals enter the channels either.

Though they are vital to our everyday lives, our irrigation channels are dangerous and should be treated with respect. Channel levels can change suddenly. Pipes, siphons, rocks and debris can be hidden below the surface.

Stay safe this summer.
Don't enter or play in irrigation channels.

A message from your local rural water corporation in the interest of community safety.

GOULBURN-MURRAY
WATER

