“Black Duck”: Nicholas Runciman-Forster

Nicolas took many photos of the Ducks, in a Caravan Park on the Murray River, Renmark. They were very friendly, so he just sat or lay on the ground as they wandered around him. Of all the photos that he took this is really the only one that he got in focus, but he had fun trying, that's the main thing.

“The time for lizards”: Blake Brewer

Lizards are very cool to look at, they also eat lots of insects. They eat mozzies for their dinner and it stops them biting us too. This one lives in QLD.

“Eildon Pondage from the bridge”: Jacob Smoglian
